SIXTY-SECOND YEAR, VOL. 62, No. 79

SUCCESS DEPENDS ON SETTLEMENT OF 3 DEMANDS

British Target Gen. Wavell Conferring On Problem

In order to meet an anticipated shortage of teachers resulting from enlistments in the armed services, the Edmonton and Calgary Normal schools will open their doors earlier this year—Monday, August 10, instead of September 14, and training will be continued until May 21, 1943, according to an announcement made by Premier William Abernethy, minister of education.

The teacher shortage emergency will also be met by the acceleration of the high school teacher-training course at the College of Education, University of Alberta. The training period at the College will open May 10 and end on or about October 31, 1942.

The College course is arranged primarily to provide training for persons who, though not intending to enter the teaching profession permanently, are willing to do so during war years.

BURKINSHAW
Returning to burials for Normal school trainees, Premier Abernethy said: "For some years under the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training Program a sum of money has been set aside for the purpose."

Soldier Dies
Maj. Arthur P. Chattell, D.S.O., one of this city's most distinguished soldiers of the Great War of 1914-1918, who died in a city hospital on Friday.

Maj. Chattell, Distinguished Soldier, Dies
Distinguished participant in military and civil affairs in Edmonton for many years, Maj. Arthur P. Chattell, D.S.O., died in a local hospital early Friday morning. He had been in ill-health for the past month and took a turn for the worse about 10 days ago. He was 62 years old.

Maj. Chattell, who had an enviable record of service overseas, had been active in the formation of the Veterans' Volunteer Reserve, and had been commanding the South Edmonton battalion of that organization. When Major John W. Fry died of air raid grief, Maj. Chattell undertook the formation of the Edmonton Air War Veterans Corps.

His only son, David, was killed in action with the Royal Air Force, in September of last year. Maj. Chattell was born in England and came to Canada in 1904. He was in the Canadian Expeditionary Force in 1914-1918, and was decorated for gallantry. He organized the Capital Sons of War.

During the Great War of 1914-1918, Maj. Chattell was in the front line of fighting on the Western Front. He was wounded several times, but continued to fight. He was promoted to Major in 1917.

Matford Plant Bombed
R.A.F. planes struck the Matford plant outside Paris, raided docks at Le Havre and carried out fighter sweeps over Nazi-held airfields last night while the Germans countered with bluffs at English south coast points.

The air minister said bomber pilots returning from the Matford raid reported they had carried out an effective bombing on "this important objective"—one of the key French industrial plants in the air ministry's master plan for demoralizing the Nazi-controlled war industries.

Two British planes were lost. The German communiqué identified their objectives as Dover and Portland. Coastal observers said they saw no German planes.

But he asked, how could you put the word "effective" on a raid which was in official correspondence but that he preferred that the raid be called a "demonstration" rather than a "raid"?

May have been calling it the Second World War, Mr. Roosevelt told a press conference, but he thought some term should be used which would be more descriptive of the war as one for the preservation of democracy and the smaller peoples of the world.

States Freezes All Prices Of Consumer Goods
WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—An order freezing prices of all consumer goods in the United States went into effect today. The order, issued by the War Relocation Authority, is the first of a series of measures designed to control prices and costs of war materials.

The order covers all goods and services, except those for the military and naval forces, and those for the production of war materials. It also covers the transportation of goods and services, and the distribution of goods and services.

The order is part of a series of measures designed to control prices and costs of war materials. It is the first of a series of measures designed to control prices and costs of war materials.

Intense Fighting 25,000 Nazis Are Killed In Raging Russian Battle
MOSCOW, April 3.—(AP)—More than 25,000 German troops have been slain and huge war supply stores captured by Red army men on the neighboring Leningrad and Kalinin fronts in 13 days of large-scale fighting still growing in intensity, the Russians said today.

Official military casualty tables have been upped by quills of 133,000 since the outbreak of a death toll of 15,000 probably increased to 15,000. Russian concentration upon northern operations would be logical to drain Nazi reserves from the south, where observers expect Adolf Hitler to try to enter his spring operations.

Sharp fighting also was reported on the southern front, where the Soviet information bureau said the Germans had hurled their infantry and armor in several counterattacks which cost them more than 800 killed.

SHARP FIGHTING
Special communiques announced that 10,000 German dead were counted between March 21 and April 1 on the Kalinin front northwest of Moscow, the scene of encirclement operations against the 16th German army about Staraya Russa, and 12,000 in the Leningrad area between March 21 and 31.

This toll was reported following issuance of a regular communiqué by the Soviet information bureau last night, which stated that 1,200 had been killed on the Leningrad front in the preceding 48 hours.

The combat tempo is rising "with every hour that passes" and a "fortified settlement" which served as a center for several villages occupied by the Germans has been captured, the Leningrad radio said. Tank-supported counter-attacks were noted.

Gen. Wavell Conferring On Problem
By JOHN R. MORRIS
NEW DELHI, April 3.—(BUP)—Success of Great Britain's effort to win India's aid in the war depends upon settlement of three demands of the All-India Congress, it was understood today.

(Disputed) from Churchill reported speculation on the possibility that President Roosevelt might intervene in the negotiations in an effort to bring about a settlement of India's demands. An Axis broadcast also reported efforts by China's Chiang Kai-shek to aid a settlement.

Mr. Stafford Cripps, Britain's ambassador to India, and Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, commander-in-chief in India and Burma, today considered three Congress demands, which were:

- 1—A strong voice in control of India's defense.
- 2—Provision for election instead of appointment of representatives of Indian states to the constitutional assembly.
- 3—Elimination of the right of provincial states to decline to advise the center.

SET FORTH POSITION
The position of the working committee of the Congress on these issues today were tried to explain to Cripps yesterday, and it is expected that he will communicate the Congress position to Wavell and Archibald Wavell, president of the Congress, and Jawaharlal Nehru, president of the Congress, later today.

If a satisfactory answer can be given to these demands there is every hope observers said, that a new India today were tried to explain to Cripps yesterday, and it is expected that he will communicate the Congress position to Wavell and Archibald Wavell, president of the Congress, and Jawaharlal Nehru, president of the Congress, later today.

3 Shot Dead When Whites, Negroes Clash
FORT DIX, N.J., April 3.—(AP)—While negro soldiers fought a bloody 15 minute battle on the darkened plains of Fort Dix last night in which three men were shot to death and five others killed in a furious exchange of bullets.

The sudden, bitter outbreak ended when negro and white officers appeared on the scene and ordered the embattled white military police and negro enlisted men to cease firing.

THE DEAD
Pvt. Martin W. Strough, white of Honesoyne, Va., a military policeman; Pvt. Isaac W. Brown, white of 102 Central Postal Directory, Henderson, Tenn.; and Pvt. W. E. Hall, negro, no address available.

The wounded, none seriously, were all negroes.

The scene of military police had been hauling to lay traps to barbed housing negro troops from which, Major Aage Wolden said, a fusillade of shots had answered a bullet "fired from the head" of a fleeing negro soldier.

FIRST RACE CLASH
The battle, termed by Major Wolden as "a riot," was the first of its kind, the first manifestation of a race clash.

Today's War Moves
Copyright, 1942, by the British United Press and the Edmonton Bulletin.
Growing concern is being expressed in Allied quarters over the German submarine campaign and the resulting shortage of shipping for the transport of war materials, men and food supplies.

In this kind of the second World War the situation is especially parallel to that of 1917, the third year of the first World War, when the German submarine campaign was at its height.

Complete figures on current losses are not being issued, but Prime Minister Churchill said in a recent speech that the situation has grown worse in recent months. Part of the increased losses are attributable to the successful German submarine campaign in western hemisphere waters. While the Nazis have bagged in the eastern Atlantic and on the Arctic route to Russia, they have not been revealed.

In April, 1941, at the height of the campaign, the British lost 12 ships.

The statement estimated 25,000 tons of scrap rubber will be needed by the end of the war. It is estimated that a government-owned processing plant will be completed sometime in 1943.

Bikes, Bottle Caps Banned By Washington

WASHINGTON, April 3.—(AP)—Sale, shipment, delivery and transfer of all new adult bicycles were frozen by the War Production Board, effective at 11:59 p.m. E.D.T. (9:59 p.m. M.D.T.), Thursday night. The action is preparatory to rationing.

The ban applies a W.P.B. spokesman said, "even if a bicycle is owned and paid for prior to the issuance of the order."

"Stocks are frozen and future production will be made available on the basis of essential needs with defense workers getting first call, casual civilian needs next, and then anyone else, if none are available," said M. D. Moore, chief of the W.P.B. bicycle section.

Other sources said it was not expected rationing would begin before the middle of this month at the earliest.

The bike order was only one of several affecting the consumer.

In others, the W.P.B. ruled out certain tin-plated bottle caps and fluorescent lighting fixtures. The non-essential items and gave notice that civilian use of copper would soon be further curtailed.

"OTTAWA, April 3.—(CP)—Curbs on bicycle manufacturing in Canada have been accomplished 'almost automatically' through rapid transfer of production facilities to war orders, munitions and supply department officials said today.

Thus, the spokesman said, it seems unlikely there will be any immediate need for the Dominion to follow the action of the United States in freezing sale, shipment, delivery and transfer of all new adult bicycles. The United States order was announced last night.

Germany's "unrested" campaign, German submarines sank 400 ships totaling $2,000,000 worth of British replacements by new building in loss and the great building campaign by the United States was not seen on paper.

SERIOUS SITUATION

The situation was so serious that Allied leaders warned defeat was in sight if the rate of sinking continued. Admiral Jellicoe advised British ministers that without compensation losses might force the Allies to seek peace.

The situation was met and overcome by rapid development of the convoy system. None of the transports which carried the vast A.E.F. in Europe was lost in convoy.

LACK OF CONVOYS

The current sinkings in American waters are attributed by naval experts mainly to the lack of convoys. It is probable that the system will be developed as rapidly as possible in coming months, since it has been found the only effective method of dealing with submarines which operate in large numbers.

The magnetic bolt around ships is a help against mines but not against torpedoes.

The gravity of the problem was indicated by a diplomatic spokesman in London who said that Germany by Christmas will be using twice as many submarines as are operating now. How many that would be it is impossible to tell, but the number probably would be greatly in excess of the maximum of 140 which Germany was estimated to have had at the peak of her operations in the last war.

Hitler probably has been devoting great effort to the production of submarines, in which he has implicit faith. It is well to recall his statement of last January: "More British and United States will need convoys on all waters."

"We will see what our U-boats may achieve."

By all accounts he undoubtedly referred partly to the western Atlantic and the Caribbean, but also probably to the Pacific and the Indian Ocean, since Japan, at that time had entered the war on the side of Germany.

Hitler's apparent hope is to offset the losses of the last war.

Funny Business

"I traded my uniform to a native girl—this is more comfortable!"

set the convoy system by attacks on so many sea that there will not be sufficient allied destroyers and other escort vessels to provide enough protection everywhere.

He is trying to cut the northern route to Britain and Russia and probably counts on Japan to cause havoc in the Indian Ocean unless a large Allied fleet is maintained there.

Canadian Killed At St. Nazaire

TORONTO, April 3.—(CP)—Lieut. Graham M. Baker, 24, Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, was killed while in command of a motor torpedo boat in the British raid on St. Nazaire last Saturday, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Baker, of Toronto, were notified officially Thursday.

Objector Fined

TORONTO, April 3.—(CP)—Watson Treva, a conscientious objector, was convicted today of failing to register for work pursuant to the national service regulations of Canada and was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500 or an additional six months.

R.A.F., Nazis Trade Blows During Night

Nazi, fearful of a repetition of recent British hit-and-run invasions of occupied France, might have been trying to break up any new preparations on this side.

The attack on the Nazi-directed Mailord works at Polay, on the Seine river, eight miles from Paris, was the third by the R.A.F. in a month's time and the second on successive nights.

Informed sources said Britain's bombers "got in some good hits" on the works, so red to supply Germany with 20 new trucks a day, but they emphasized that it was not on the big scale of other recent British air raids.

BRILLIANT MOON

The most concentrated anti-aircraft fire ever seen on the English south coast distinguished the blows there, delivered with the benefit of a full, brilliant moon.

Although the German planes were in unusual force, their bombs fell over a relatively broad area. A communique indicated damages and casualties were slight except for "one place on the south coast and another one on the southeast coast" where "damage was caused, and there were a number of casualties, some of which were fatal."

"It seemed like a spite raid," said one seasoned observer who was in the area.

has spent the whole war at a post on that last shore.

"The Nazis buzzed in like a swarm of angry bees, dropped their bombs in hit or miss fashion, then beat it back quickly for the French coast."

"They came in unusually low with a roar heard for miles."

NOT CONCENTRATED

"At first we thought it was our own machines returning from French raids. Then the bombs started whistling down all around the town and the countryside. Many fell on open ground and caused no damage. The Germans made no attempt to concentrate on any objective."

Many homes were damaged or destroyed in one town which was a target of the Nazi raiders and a town which scored a direct hit on a crowded public shelter caused a considerable number of casualties. Nine bodies were removed from the shelter by dawn and rescue work was continuing.

FIRST GAME AT ARENA TODAY AT 2.30 P.M.

Wichita "Thurstons" Arrive For Grad-Comet Series

Buddy Reynolds Says Team Ready

Completing the long journey from Wichita, Kansas, in less than three days, Coach "Buddy" Reynolds and his famous "Thurstons" arrived in Edmonton at 4.30 Thursday afternoon, for the two-game basketball series against the Grad-Comet combination.

This afternoon's game has been set for 2.30 o'clock, while Saturday's is billed for 8 p.m. Both are being played at the Arena, the scene of five series between Wichita teams and Percy Page's Edmonton Grads.

Seven players along with their coach and Ben Harris make up the party and they plan starting on the return trip on Sunday, as four of the six engaged in airplane work and intend to be back on the job next Wednesday. A trip is contemplated in a training hotel preparing for another branch of war work.

Incidentally all of the girls on the team are employed and each one is sacrificing both wages and time in order to make this series possible.

"READY TO HELP"
However, the genial Wichita coach said last night, "We are always ready to help a worthy cause and we consider the Edmonton Grads' trip to Britain for the Red Cross campaign certainly falls in that category."

Captain of the Thurstons is Corne Smith, who has been here five times. Corne is rated as one of the greatest stars in U.S. basketball. Hazel McConaghy Reynolds, wife of the coach, has also been here for five previous series.

Lois Pool Bullock, Colene Peterson, Dolores Major, Ruth Ott and Eloise Purkey make up the rest of the team. Edmonton fans will no doubt recall Dolores Major as the girl never without a smile.

HOLD WORKOUTS
Both Thurstons and Grad-Comet held workouts at the Arena last night in preparation for today's battle and one of the visitors will no doubt have special cause to remember the occasion, for while the team was out on the floor, Edmonton's topranking claimant to the "metropolitan" title cracked into the dressing room and stole five dollars from her purse.

Five of former Grad lineup will be taking part in the two games. Two of them, Noel McDonald and Elia Dean, being captains. Helen Northrup Alexander, Betty Bowden and Winnie Galloway have also answered the call, sent out by Percy Page.

In addition six of Coach Bullock's Grads will be in uniform, including Percy Colville, Laura Stachurski, Bernice Clark, Margaret Peterson, Pat Cavanagh and Lou Hepler.

HAS GOOD TEAM
When asked last night what he thought his chances of a win were, Coach Reynolds replied: "While I believe we have the best club we ever had and am certain we can give any team in the United States a hard fight, I have very vivid recollections of previous Percy Page basketball machines."

They then quickly added: "One thing I am sure of is that these games are really going to be good."

Officials for the series are: Ed Tomick, referee, and Tommy McCusick, umpire. Score: Al Cline Hollingsworth and timer Roy Halliburton.

Speculators are reminded that they must enter the 18th door of the Arena. Those arriving by car may enter the grounds at 18th Avenue, while others are being asked to use the 18th Ave. gate.

Tigers Out Of Step With Other Motor City Projects

NEW YORK, April 3.—(BUP)—The conversion of Detroit from an automobile capital into an arena center is proceeding at an enviable clip, but at least one of the motor city's major corporations is strangely out of step. It is neither retooling nor expanding. Instead of preparing for a healthy boom, it is battenning hatches against a depression.

The corporation referred to is the Detroit Tiger baseball club, a team which will join the 1912 American League race in May. It is a member of the retooling of the city of Detroit. Two years ago the Tigers were up. Last year they slumped down. Today they are still down and unless parachute are provided they may drop out of sight.

Detroit factories are so busy that old machinery is being carried to vacant lots and abandoned for the duration to make way for the new projects. Well-known Walter Briggs has given the Tigers the same treatment. He is busy with war orders so he just handed the club over to general manager Jack Zeller—look, stock, barrel and problem child Bobo Newman.

Zeller went to work with his latches immediately. The club tumbled from first to a tie for fourth in the first year, and Zeller has anticipated salary accordingly. Newman was slumped from $22,000 to $12,500. Rusty York from $10,000 to $8,000 and a possible bonus, and the others dropped in the same proportion. Only Al Benton got a raise.

NOBODY INTERESTED
Lafayette Newman is now settled by his sale to Washington but Bobo went to camp unchanged, asked $20,000 and was flatly refused. Zeller asked waivers but apparently few owners were interested in a pitcher who wanted $20,000 after winning only 12 games last year. Washington finally picked him up Monday night.

The rest of the team is assembled and Manager Del Baker is engaged with a rebuilding program that will give pause to the engineers who constructed Boulder Dam. Aside from his pitching staff, which is hardly constructive to Baker, he has only four returning regulars and at least two of those can be considered on the upgrade for 1912.

The four include Rudy York and Pinky Higgins at first and third bases, Barney McCasky in the outfield, George Tobin, behind the plate. A major trade with Washington provided second baseman Jim Brouthers and outfielder Roger Crawford, capable enough

Brooklyn Unable Pry Newsom Loose From Washington

DAYTONA BEACH, Feb. 27. (AP)—The filibuster surrounding an effort by Brooklyn Dodgers to pry Buck Newsom from Washington Senators' club spokesmen but all parties concerned insisted Thursday the deal is dead.

In Chicago, manager Bucky Harris of Washington Senators said Newsom looks in fine shape and that he does not intend to part with him and here at the Dodgers' headquarters various club spokesmen asserted that everybody had been hoping to make a fortune of Brooklyn and that whole affair had chilled.

The Senators wanted three players for the veteran whose reliability may be gauged by the fact he won 41 games in three seasons preceding 1911 and only a dozen last year. Washington, interested in their baseman Lew Riggs, second baseman Alex Kampouris and outfielder John Rizzo. This not only was a steep price, but the players involved on both sides would have to be waived and the whole sale apparently bogged down under its own complexity.

Brooklyn broke camp last night and headed northward, confident the club is almost certain to retain the National League championship. Certainly the Dodgers appear to be a better team than last year.

Sports . . . Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, April 3.—(AP)—Mutual gamblers have been picking New York race tracks to keep horses from moving in before an argument with the operators is settled. . . . Dorothy Dix Says:

Dear Mr. Dix: I am very much in love with a girl who has been married twice and divorced and who has a child eight years old. I am 18 years old and she is 25, but we are very much in love and are planning on getting married. But my mother objects because the girl has already two living husbands and is so much older than I am and because she has a child and because I have no way of supporting a wife. I think she is more petted than a young girl and would make me a better wife. What do you think—BILL.

Answer: The only thing that seems settled about the girl is her habit of scolding husbands, and if at 18 you marry her you are dead sure to be No. 3 in her collection of divorcees.

There is every reason in the world why you should not enter into this foolish marriage. You are too young to know what you want in a wife, and you would be sick and tired of this one before you are grown. You have no way to support even yourself and you certainly couldn't expect your parents to take on the burden of providing for a strange woman and her child. She has two husbands already and a ready-made family. Think it over, son, and don't do it.

Chart Shows How To Type Rapidly

Slow Typist at Desk
Touch typist finish their work in half the time that others take. No wonder bosses prefer to hire them!

If you are interested, you can study touch-typing at home—easily with the keyboard chart in our Home Service instruction booklet.

When you start learning, you put your eight fingers on the chart keys, marked black on the chart and each the center of a section of keys. Get used to the feel of these guide keys. Type each one over and over, never lifting more than one finger at a time.

Learn, next, to reach to other rows. Still keeping your fingers glued to these guide keys, only lift the one that does the reaching. And only let it strike the keys in its special, assigned section.

With exercise you learn to reach any key without looking; you keep your eyes on your copy.

That's the way to accuracy: speed! Our 20-page booklet has the keyboard chart and the exercises you need to get typing skill. Gives

Mairon's Slimming Exercise

There's definite slimming magic in this new frock, Pattern 4994, designed by Anne Adams.

Every detail is fashion-right... the soft neckline with optional scallop, the row of dots above the waist to enrich the fullness of the bodice, the choice of short, three-quarter or long sleeves, and those two panels in the skirt will deceive the eye on the width of your hips! The well-cut jacket, with long or three-quarter sleeves, is a slimming feature, too, and may match or contrast with the dress. If you choose contrast, do accent the unusual collar by making it of the same fabric as the dress.

Pattern 4994 is available in women's sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36, dress takes 3 yards 30 inch fabric.

The power of Napoleon in Europe was broken more by epidemic influenza than his soldiers than by military opposition, many historians say.

Your Baby And Mine

The mother-to-be is certain to think of her coming baby as being an extension of herself. She feels as if he will belong to her and that she will have the personal right to dress him, play with him, feed him and educate him as if he were not a person, in his own right, but her own animated doll.

For the first year of baby's life she is apt to have an unhampered opportunity to carry out her ideas. But from the moment the child moves about under his own power, the second year, and begins to be a challenge, her right to treat him as if he belonged to her is challenged.

How shall a mother know when she is being respectful of the child's attempt to grow into an independent individual, and when she is intent only on holding him to her? Ask yourself the following questions and answer them honestly.

CHILD CARE

Do you feel offended and hurt when the child fails to mind you instantly even if what you asked wasn't entirely necessary?

You recognize the developmental possibilities of a child's play and hesitate to break in upon the child when he is seriously engaged in some interest of his own?

Do you insist that a child act everything out before him, disregarding his own likes and dislikes?

Do you give the child an opportunity to make choices of conduct in order that he may develop his own personality, or as a means of making up to you for the disappointment of your married life?

The above are just a few of the many attitudes or acts by which a mother reflects her belief that her child came into the world particularly to satisfy her as a parent and a person.

The fact that she may argue that what she is doing seems to be good for the child in no way excuses her when what she is doing at the same time suffices or ignores his own personality growth.

All mothers tend to be possessive unless they make themselves see that their children are no longer parts of themselves but independent human beings with the rights and privileges to which this estate entitles them.

Our leaflet "Training for Independence," mentions some of a child's dependent habits and ways to end them. It may be had by sending a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Elard in care of this newspaper.

Most "Classical" Music is NOT Classical

Douglas Moore points out in his enlightening book "Listening to Music," the fact that most serious music is really not classical; that the term "classical" which is applied to all music not of the ballad type or dance type, is erroneous. Haydn and Mozart composed classical music which was standardized and fixed in form; while Schumann and Wagner did not compose classical music, but romantic music. Beethoven paved the way for the transition from the classical to the romantic music, and most composers after him were of the romantic age. Of late, the impressionistic and moderate forms have appeared.

Points For Parents

By EDITH THOMAS WALLACE

Mother: "When Bill comes in, won't you say something about how nice it is to have two children—a big boy and a little girl? It will help him feel he is not 'supplanted'."

Friend: "Aren't you the lucky person to have this adorable baby girl?"

Mother: "Have you seen Bill? We think we're lucky to have him, too."

A tip to friends ahead of time is better than a later too-obvious effort to prevent an older child from feeling jealous of a new baby.

Practical Christianity Seen As Urgent Need Of Disillusioned World

Four students, who will graduate in theology at the University of Alberta shortly, received testaments at the sixteenth annual convocation of St. Stephen's College held Thursday evening in the college auditorium and attended by many of Alberta's leading churches.

The four graduating students are: Paul Gower, B.A., and John Norcham (in absentia), both of Edmonton; Robert Nott, B.A., of Calgary; and Orlan Frederick Cypri, M.A., of Hanna.

These graduates will receive their Bachelor of Divinity degrees at the regular convocation of the University of Alberta on May 19 and will be ordained into the ministry of the United Church of Canada at the annual Alberta conference to be held in Edmonton during the latter part of May.

Convocation address, "The Ministry of Today and Tomorrow," was given by Rev. Principal D. S. Dix, M.A., D.D., St. Andrew's College, Saskatoon. Acting President Robert Newton, Ph.D., D.Sc., B.S.C., brought greetings from the University of Alberta, while Rev. M. F. Favon, D.D., president of the Alberta conference of the United Church of Canada, brought greetings from the latter part of May.

MESSAGE NEEDED
"We must preach today to a needy world a message that is practical, educational and above all, a message through Christ." declared Rev. Principal Dix in his convocation address. "Such a message is the bearer of that message," he continued, and named anxiety, quality of "joyous abandon," and a sense of mission as specific qualities needed.

The world today is in transition, the Saskatchewan college head pointed out. The cycle of current criticism, confusion and a measure of realization is again in force. Early stages of the cycle have continued on Page Fifteen.

THE ANSWERS
MR. PEARL, B.A., B.Sc., B.N., the great question of an affirmative majority is probably, lack of understanding of exactly what is involved, and a feeling in many quarters that the best way to express disapproval of the government's course in taking this issue is just to ignore the whole thing. We may be sure the anti-conviction vote will be pulled together, and if the outcome is unfavorable the reason may well be the indifference of those who hold that total conviction is necessary to any war.

H. D. AINLEY, chairman, Edmonton Affirmative Vote Committee, the importance of "getting the vote out" on plebiscite day is paramount. It is futile now to argue that the plebiscite should not have been ordered. We have to deal with a specific situation and not with a theory. The fate of the government is not at stake in the case of Canada as it is in the case of the United States. Every citizen should rally to the issue of "affirmative vote" in the vote to see to it that the largest vote ever cast in any election or plebiscite is achieved on April 27.

HARRY THOMPSON, carpenter, it will appear to me that the members of the provincial legislative assembly should join with local affirmative vote organizations to give a lead to the people. This is an issue of tremendous importance to the security and future of this country. A duty devolves on leaders in the community to acquaint the people with the facts and to persuade the people to mark their ballots.

Gasoline Rationing Plan Presents Problems For Motorists, Operators

The problem presenting the greatest difficulty to gasoline rationing operators during the first few days of gas rationing is the plan has been their adherence to instructions outlined in regulations set out by the oil companies. Several operators, however, stated here on Friday morning that the operators of the gas stations had been given the full details of the plan.

Methods of gas handling for which the operators were trained during many years of experience, have now fallen by the wayside and strict adherence to the new regulations has caused embarrassing moments for many of the vendors.

AMOUNT STANDARDIZED
For years the first question asked of the customer was "How many pounds?" Now the amounts are fairly well standardized and operators in most cases will give the amount required even without questioning.

The latest type of gasoline pump that measures away the gasoline for cents and dollars worth, instead of by quantity, have very few operators as sales now are limited to small amounts.

Operators themselves must handle the customer's coupon book. It must be examined for date, and possibility of tampering, and the book number corresponds with the oil license number.

Solemn, Impressive Services Mark City's Good Friday Observances

Miss McCuaig Is Speaker At V.O.N. Meet

MISS MARY McCUAIG, western supervisor of the Victorian Order of Nurses, spoke to members of the Edmonton board of directors at their meeting in the Empress Hotel, Hudson's Bay Company alone on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Philip Dean was in the chair.

In her talk, Miss McCuaig reviewed the progress made by the order in Edmonton, since her incumbency as supervisor of the V. O. N. in Edmonton 12 years ago. She mentioned the ways in which the work had advanced, how the order has widened its scope of activity and how it has increased its service to Edmonton. The progress has been due, she said, to better nursing services, through the work of the board of the order and through cooperation of city officials.

She paid special tribute to the work of the three auxiliaries in Edmonton, the Florence Nightingale auxiliary, the Lady Aberdeen League and the Club Victorian, in their generous programs of assistance to the Order.

During the business meeting, Miss Viola Leadley, supervisor, reported that 483 visits were made during March; that 73 new patients were treated; that 58 soldiers' families had been assisted and that the car had travelled 1748 miles. Reports were given by representatives of the three auxiliaries and by Mrs. M. R. Bow, the order's representative on the Local Council of Women.

Dorothy Welsh Is Bride Of L. Sorenson

CROWNED in flower-length while embroidered lace over tulle and carrying an arm bouquet of delicate pink roses and white heather, Dorothy Welsh, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Welsh, became the bride of L. Sorenson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sorenson on Thursday evening.

Setting for the ceremony was in St. Mary's Anglican Church with Rev. J. Elliott officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was designed with bouffant skirt, moulded to a light bodice, with shirring at the pointed waistline, and full sleeves. They covered buttons marked the back of her neck from neck line to waist. A veil of embroidered white net was caught to her head with a hair trimmed with pink roses and white heather. She wore a gold pendant and bracelet that her mother had worn on her wedding day, and a gold sweetheart bracelet, the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Elizabeth Welsh was her sister's attendant. She was dressed in soft turquoise sheer, designed with light bodice, full skirt, bishop sleeves and a long train.

A sweetheart gift of matching turquoise taffeta with crown of flowers, a Colonial bouquet of pink and white flowers completed her ensemble.

Mrs. John Sorenson supported the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Mr. Arthur Foster and Mr. Edgar Foster. Wedding music was supplied by Mr. Kendrick.

Following the ceremony, a reception about 50 friends was arranged at the Buffalo Hotel.

Mrs. Welsh received wearing an afternoon frock of dusky rose, designed with a skirt, pointed neckline and bell sleeves. With this she wore black accessories and a corsage of cream roses.

Mrs. Sorenson chose an afternoon dress of wine lace designed with flaring skirt, bracelet sleeves and pointed neckline. Her accessories made their home in Edmonton.

Four Students Are Graduated St. Stephen's

Prize and we are now living in a society with much education ment.

To the four graduates from St.
Stephen's college, Dr. Dix said:
"You are about to go out into such a world, a world where you will find that there is no such thing as a free lunch, and that you will find that the only way to get ahead is to work hard and to be honest in all your dealings."

OUTLOOK HOPEFUL

The Christian church is not entirely bleak, the speaker continued. It is necessarily conditioned by its environment, but the outlook for the Christian church, he added, is to the least, hopeful as a result of self-judgment, and presenting a challenge opportunity.
Chairman of the convention was Dr. C. C. Repert of the Senate was given by the dean, Professor C. J.
Henderson, and media, prize and chairman of the board, Rev. D. C.
Henderson, M.A. H. Rev. Principal Tuttle gave the principal's report, and as chairman of the senate, presented a letter from the Rev. H.
Burdell, M.A. B.D., of Fort Macleod, was the convocation chairman.

STUDENTS DECREASE

In his principal's report, Dr. Tuttle declared that registration in this year was "down," due in part to service enlistment. A total of 75 students are enrolled with the college at present. Dr. Tuttle said that the world has lost the best of the people of the province had awakened to the need for ministry, but that there was "a serious shortage" of future preachers.

Dr. Tuttle noted that one of the college's students, Rev. H. Burdell, was killed on war service during the past year.
Praising the teaching staff, particularly those who had helped out because of various situations, the principal called for "leadership for bettering conditions after this strife." The world has lost the best of the people of the province to government by man, the end of which is tyranny.

WORLD BROTHERHOOD

Dr. Newlin, in his greetings from the University, noted that theological was the first faculty in the classical university. He offered as a suggestion to the graduates students that they take it as part of their responsibility to the world, the concept of "world brotherhood," the concept of "citizen of the world."

Dr. Foxworth, in his address to the graduates from the college, brought greetings from the Church, first from the University of Toronto, then in the Alberta conference of the U.C.
and second, from the members—12,000 throughout the province.

The new present for the convocation included from A. D. Miller, of the staff, Bro. Anstett, rector of St. Joseph's College, Ven. Archdeacon S. F. Tuckey, representing the Bishop of Edmonton, Bro.
W. F. Burfoot, and Rev. J.
McNeill Miller, minister of First Presbyterian church.

Mountainous Burma Battlefront

Oil fields of the Irrawaddy and Chindwin valleys, the strategic crossroads at Mandalay and eventually India, are targets of two Jap thrusts (arrows) northward in Burma. British and Chinese forces, aided by A.V.G. and R.A.F. fighters, are trying to stem the enemy's drive through this mountainous country.

The annual baccalaureate service was prayed by Rev. R. McElroy Thompson of Metropolitan United Church on March 28.

Following the convocation ceremony, "refractions" were served in the college dining room.
Complete list of awards follows:
The J. J. Macdonald gold medal for proficiency in the entire course in theology, to Robert Bruce Christie

Britain Thinks Japs Planning Soviet Attack

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
LONDON, April 3. — (UPI)— Great Britain's foreign office will attack Russia this spring at the same time Germany will attack Russia in the west, diplomatic sources reported today.

Some quarters believe the Germans will attack the British in Lubya coincidentally in a drive to Buez.

Following belief that Japan would attack Russia was strengthened by conviction that so long as Russia remains unbroken and a constant threat, Germany can never extirpate the great bulk of its army for either defense or offensive operations.

SHIPPING FACTOR

This would mean that Germany would have to look forward to the time when Great Britain could involve the continent to form a real second front.

It was admitted here that this time was not used. Diplomatic informants said that for no other reason the present action on Allied shipping was too great to permit an attempt to land large forces on the continent.

"We can do nothing more than humbly and rationally the United States are able to land a large army," an informant said. "But there is still a great deal to be done that will be a pretty well prepared attack."

This informant warned that the Allies are likely to suffer setbacks for some time and said regarding the attack on the Atlantic, "Germany by Christmas probably will be using two more major submarines as are now operating at sea."

RUSSIA INFORMED

Diplomatic quarters expressed belief that Russia had been fully informed of Britain's belief, based on "information from trustworthy sources," that Japan intends to attack her this spring.

Spoken words urged that the United Nations do all they could in the Pacific to draw off forces which Japan might use against Russia while Britain continues mass aerial attacks on Germany and makes frequent commando raids on the continental coast.

There was comment here on reports that Russia might have weakened her powerful Far Eastern army in attempting her campaign against Germany and it was known whether Japan had drawn up its Manchukuo army for service elsewhere.

Both the Russian and Japanese armies in the Far East are semi-autonomous and big. Throughout the year in which it has been down in China, Japan has maintained its best troops in China.

Those who say that Japan is too busy in the Pacific to attack Russia are reminded that the same thing was said regarding attacks on British, American and Dutch territories in the Pacific on the ground that she had plenty to do in China.

ADAPTED POWER

Nobody pretends here that Japan's claims have not gone beyond what is reasonable. The Japanese are better than Japan expected. Though Japan has lost a serious number of ships, it is supposed to have adequate planes and men.

Japan's past experience with Russia's Far Eastern army has not been happy. The Japanese have been soundly beaten every time they fell out Russian strength in the frontier incidents. The last incident is believed to have cost Japan about 40,000 killed on the west.

Getting Around

days and nights in the good summer months.

Lightning, says the scientist, fertilizes the soil. The action of the lightning in clearing through the atmosphere at 60,000,000 miles an hour releases nitrogen from the air.
The nitrogen, falling to earth in the form of nitric acid in rain drops, fertilizes the soil. Through this process lightning actually produces nearly 100,000,000 tons of nitric acid—more of this soil building than is manufactured by all the fertilizer plants now operating in the entire world.

And lightning performs another valuable little chore. It restores to the earth the immense amount of electricity that seeps to the clouds from the earth and thus keeps the battery charged. Just like the battery of your car.

And they have it all figured out,
too. To offset the loss of electricity, the earth's surface must be struck by lightning at the average rate of 10 times a second, or about two billion times a year.

At the next time your heart thumps a few jumps when the attillery of the heavens opens up, remember that old mother earth is just charging up the battery and that your automobile and radio will be simply sipping up that big dose of nitric acid.

But at the same time it would be nicer if old dame nature could arrange to have her fertilization and battery charging carried out with less Fourth of July window dressing, wouldn't it?

And before this discussion about lightning closes, here's a true story told by a major who served three years in France in the last war. During a violent lightning storm last summer the major said:

"The night during the worst part of the storm except a bad term came up. The lightning was terrific and thunder crashed so loudly it drowned out the noise of the guns and exploding shells. You perhaps won't believe me but I'm telling nothing but the truth when I say I was more frightened by that lightning than by the German shells."
